Post hearing discussion with Judge Peck

- Discussion with the judge's law clerks—what should the decision be?
- Judge Peck's decision

These will be on the final

- Is there a duty to implement the ability to remotely update software in consumer products?
- Can you be found liable if you don't implement a remote update function?
- Anonymous payment methods such as Bitcoin and regulations like the EU's General Data Protection Regulation's "right to be forgotten" might make it difficult to identify the consumers of a product and therefore the members of a class/mass action.
- What problems can occur when you allow your customers to remain anonymous?
